Food Safety

We believe that we simply cannot have high quality and taste standards without having matching food safety standards. Following best practices while honouring traditional cooking and preservation methods was not difficult when our entire team recognizes the importance of producing safe and delicious food.

We are a proud Canadian food manufacturing company, and work hard to exceed our customers expectations.

Who are we?

With over 30 years of experience in food manufacturing and distribution, the founder of 2 Leos Food Inc., Muru Rajah, has a distinct passion for the industry. Each product has been personally fine-tuned and chosen by him.

His passion for delicious food was passed on to his diverse family, where now his daughter, Aarthi Aguanno (president) has been given the opportunity of managing the business. The combination of over a decade of food industry experience, along with education and an instinct for working with and for communities, she has found a calling in 2 Leos Food Inc. Along with his daughter, we proudly have other family members that help run the business. Each family member has taken it upon themselves to bring something unique to the company, allowing for its growth.

Like many businesses in the food industry, family matters. Understanding that beyond blood lines, each employee is part of the family has led to our current success. Everyone works hard together to reach for the goals we set out to achieve. The personal investment and love for the business is reflected in the products that we make and the commitment each member has to producing delectable and safe food that they would serve to their own families.

Antica Roma™ (founded in the 1990s) is our retail brand, and MARSA™ (founded in 2010) is our wholesale brand. Each brand has earned its reputation from our taste profile and style of products, as well as food safety and service standards due to the diligence and hardwork of our team.

We are proud of each and every person that makes 2 Leos Food Inc. what it is today.

*From our family to yours
we look forward to growing together*
